Charity Navigator

For the last two consecutive years, UPAF has earned a four-star rating from nonprofit evaluator Charity Navigator. Charity Navigator rates nonprofits by evaluating two broad areas of performance: Financial Health and Accountability & Transparency.

The four-star rating demonstrates to UPAF's more than 22,000 donors how efficiently we steward their dollars, how well the organization has sustained itself over time, and our commitment to being accountable and transparent.

This distinction means that the United Performing Arts Fund outperforms most other charities in America. Only one quarter of the nonprofits evaluated by Charity Navigator receive the coveted four-star rating.

Americans for the Arts

UPAF is ranked No. 1 by Americans for the Arts for being the most cost effective united arts fund in the country.
