PERFORMANCES

Carl Storniolo - Pangaea Steel Pan Group

Pangaea is a musical ensemble that specializes in performing music from the Caribbean. The steel pan, a Trinidadian instrument constructed from the bottom of an oil barrel, is featured, giving the group that special "island" sound. Pangaea performs as a duet (pans and marimba), trio (pans, marimba and bass) or in solo format (pans with pre-recorded backing tracks).

The steel pan is frequently heard in Caribbean music, such as calypso and reggae. However, any style of music can be arranged for the steel pan, and Pangaea plays a variety of calypso, reggae, pop, Bossa Nova, jazz, and "classical" songs.

Terry Smirl Jazz Trio

The Terry Smirl Trio has been performing throughout the Midwest for well over 20 years, playing jazz renditions of classic tunes from the Great American Songbook in a style that is tasteful and light yet always swings hard. The trio consists of piano, upright bass, and a small drum kit (we bring a digital keyboard if no piano is available on site), and the trio requires very little floor space. Guitar is available as an optional substitute for the piano.

Our performances typically include songs that were composed during the “Golden Age” of American popular song—from the late ‘20’s through the early ‘50’s—and lend themselves perfectly to our classic, straight-ahead jazz style. We specialize in playing very quietly, and our renditions of these tunes work perfectly as background music for cocktails, dinner, mingling, etc. However, we can also “open up” and swing hard for concert settings!

Brew City Blasters

The Brew City Blasters is a brand new offering from Les Artistes. The band uses standard "Dixieland" or New Orleans band instrumentation: trumpet, clarinet (or soprano saxophone), trombone, piano, bass, and drums. Our repertoire consists of classic New Orleans favorites such as When the Saints Go Marching In, Bill Bailey, Do You Know What It Means to Miss New Orleans?, St James Infirmary, St Louis Blues, Alexander's Ragtime Band, Just A Closer Walk With Thee, etc. We also play a growing list of more contemporary jazz titles rooted in Gospel, Blues, etc. Unlike other similar bands in town, this band is made up of highly trained, professional jazz musicians, not retired people, amateurs, or hobbyists.

INTERACTIVE WORKSHOP

Deep Listening

In this participatory workshop, Milwaukee composer Lawton Hall will lead participants in a series of collective sound exercises that bridge mindfulness and listening. A protégé of the late American composer Pauline Oliveros, Hall is an expert in her technique of Deep Listening, which she called “a non-verbal creative expression of experience, to be received with embodied understanding, that may bring a sense of well-being.

PERFORMANCE or INTERACTIVE PERFORMANCE/WORKSHOP

"To Be! Shakespeare Here and Now!"

To Be! introduces you to William Shakespeare, live, in person and having traveled from 450 years ago all the way to Milwaukee. The program is a one-person interactive presentation that is customized for every organization as a workshop, interactive meet and greet, or straight-up performance.

Shakespeare knew how to use laughter to reach his audience, and "To Be! Shakespeare Here and Now" continues in this glorious tradition. The Renaissance was a fun time and learning about it through "To Be!" is even more fun. Dynamic interpretations of excerpts from some of Shakespeare's most famous works are combined with a humorous look at life in Renaissance England. The program also includes plenty of opportunities to star alongside The Bard of Avon.

William Shakespeare is portrayed by Ron Fry, founding artistic director for Milwaukee's Shakespeare in the Park. To Be! is an award-winning program born and played extensively throughout the Midwest and has been enjoyed by nearly 90,000 people for 30 years. It has been performed from Los Angeles, CA to Washington, DC to Florence, Italy and many points in between.

LENGTH: 10-45 minutes

SPEAKER AVAILABLE

Optimist Theatre Director and Artistic Associate, Dramaturg, Mary Lynn

Subjects include: Understanding Shakespeare - it's easier than you think. Every time a company decides to present a Shakespeare play, it's their 'cover' or interpretation. How a dramaturg selects source material and mines it for meaning and context to craft a script is a fascinating process.

LENGTH: 10-20 minutes

SPEAKER AVAILABLE

RUACH Founder and Executive Director, Joshua Richman

Subjects include: A Jewish Perspective on Music and the Arts: The ancient wisdom that Judaism has to offer remains ever-relevant today, regarding music and the arts. Joshua Richman is a Whitefish Bay High School- and Yale-educated musician who previously soloed with the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra and at the International Trombone Association Convention, and who was Assistant Conductor of the Yale Symphony Orchestra, prior to returning to his roots and journeying to Jerusalem, Israel, to study Torah and related Jewish texts. With the help of family and friends, several years after his return to the States, Josh founded RUACH ('spirit,' 'wind,' or 'breath' in Hebrew), an approximately-eighteen-year-old, Milwaukee-based, Jewish arts and music organization that services both the Jewish community and those outside the Jewish community in Milwaukee, especially in the Sherman Park neighborhood. Josh speaks about the Torah's (the Five Books of Moses and associated texts') unique, inspiring, deep, and rich perspective on music and the arts, one likely different than that with which listeners may be familiar but which resonantly speaks to the 'spirit' of all humanity, not just Jews, demonstrating a glimpse into a common ground that joins our diverse roots.

LENGTH: 10-20 minutes

PERFORMANCE

Signature Dance Company (SDC) is a Milwaukee-based dance company for women and girls ages 4 and up.
